

Jane Downey has been busy planning the first ever "IWIRC in the Blue Ridge Mountains" -- a two-day conference for IWIRC Carolinas members in Asheville, NC. Jane has lined up wonderful speakers, including Judge Burris and Judge Diehl, and great programming, including a yoga class, dinner, and even a Sierra Nevada brewery experience. This seminar is free for IWIRC members because Jane solicited sponsorships from 15 firms and businesses. Thank you, Jane, for all of your hard work!

Outside of being chair of the Carolinas Network and conference planning, Jane is a partner at the Moore Taylor Law Firm, P.A. in West Columbia, SC. She is a mother to three grown boys, and an advocate for bicycle and pedestrian friendly areas and financial literacy education.
